Board approves ordinance

Antioch to have full time mayor

The Antioch Village board approved the passing of an amendment to an existing ordinance that will give Antioch a full time mayor after next April's election.

The move made by the board at Monday's board meeting amended the existing ordinance creating the mayor's position, making the job of Mayor of Antioch a full time one and raising the present pay of $2,000 received by part-time Mayor Michael Haley to $28,000 per year for a full time mayor as of May 1, 1981.

The only dissenter on the board was Trustee William Seemann who made an effort to get the rest of the board to hold off on the ordinance approval until they could get input from the people of Antioch.

Seeman said "I was unaware that this ordinance approval would be brought up tonight, I thought the board was just going to instruct the attorney to write the ordinance and was not aware that this instruction had already come out of committee.

According to Village Attorney Andy Lynch, who was not at last week's committee meeting, he was instructed to draw up the ordinance last week.

Seeman also said that his no vote was not one against any personalities on the board, commenting that he thought that Mike Haley had "done a fine job as mayor," but was just to ask for a delay in order to get resident input.

When the rest of the board was asked when it was decided to amend the ordinance they gave vague answers such as, "its been in discussion for a long time," but no one seem to come up with any dates of committee or board meetings within the last few months when this was discussed.

"Discussed in executive session" was also mentioned.

Seeman mentioned that there had been agreement that either a full time mayor or a business administrator was needed because, although the population of the village was 4,500, the village serviced 15,000 to 20,000 people.

Seeman also remarked that it must be remembered "that the present village structure made it one of the most successful in Lake County because it was a close village where the citizens were willing to bring their intelligence to the committees unselfishly."

It will not be possible to put the question of a full time mayor before the people of Antioch in referendum forum on the April ballot since only three referendums are allowed on the ballot and those slots are already taken up by the three tax ceiling cut referendums whose petitions were just filed on Oct. 21.

Trustee Don Amundsen said the reason the ordinance was passed now was "to give it time to be bandied about before the general election."

Trustee Vern Barnstable said that he felt that a business administrator would take a lot of power away from the board.

On the subject of administrator versus full time mayor, Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz said, "The salaries of municipal business administrators in the area were reportedly more than the $28,000 approved by the board for the full time mayor."

In contacting the Illinois Municipal League, information was received that not too many municipalities in Illinois, that had the same population as Antioch, had full time mayors, very few having full time business managers.

"In most of these places, there are 1,020 with populations akin to Antioch's, the clerk is the only full time employee, said a league representative.

The only other announced candidate for mayor at this time, former mayor Robert Wilton says, "This is foolish, Antioch does not need a full time mayor. It hasn't grown that much since I was mayor five years ago and we didn't need one then. The department heads seem to be functioning smoothly as they always have done, making such full time personnel unnecessary."

Mayor Haley says, "There is work here for a full time official, and an elected official will be more responsible to the people."

Breakfasters eat and win

The First National Bank of Antioch sponsored a pancake breakfast on Sunday, Nov. 9 at the Antioch Moose Lodge Hall.

The proceeds of the breakfast went to the 4-H Exchange Student fund.

The sausages served at the breakfast were a product of the prize winning hog purchased at the Lake County Fair last summer by the bank.

Hams and other meat from the hog were raffled and the prize winners were: Donna Kettwich, ham; Marci Jester, ham; Shirley Gutowski, ham; C. Geraci, ham; Dian Irmen; Tim Staples; Dorothy Regner; Michael Burkhart; Mark Haach; Jeannia Rindahl; Art Creaney; Alan Bednar; Wayne Alshouse; Bob Komar; S. Gerasch.

Ozite Co. practically donates Senior Center's wallcovering

The interior decoration of the Antioch Senior Citizen Center received a real boost at this week's village board meeting when Bobby Rowan, who is employed by Ozite Inc., a carpeting company in Libertyville, made the village board an offer that they couldn't refuse.

After showing the board a sample of Ozite wall covering done in a sculptured mural design of "The Old Mill," Rowan offered to do a similar project on the walls of the Senior Center for just the price of the adhesive required to adhere the covering to the walls.

She said that this would cost approximately $7 per gallon and taking into consideration the sizes of the walls of the center, estimated that about 12 gallons would be required.

Rowan said that the covering to be used would normally be retail priced at $11 a square yard but her company would donate the wall covering material and she would donate her time so the cost of the adhesive would be the only cost charged for the project.

All that the Ozite Co. would ask in return is to be allowed to take pictures of the finished product and use the project for advertising.

Chamber to elect directors

It is time for the election of new board members for the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

The Chamber has a nine member board and there are three open three year slots this year.

The nominating committee has selected four names and presented them to the members of the Chamber to be voted upon.

The ballots are due to be returned on Nov. 20.

Nominated for the posts this year are: Tom Graham, Way We Were Restaurant; Bob Mattson, Textile Industry; Dan Dreyer, Awards by Kadan; Phil Adesko, Adesko Electric.

SHOOTING TEAM

The Antioch Jaycees have selected 32 students to compete for four spots on the roster of the competitive shooting team. The team will be entered in competition throughout the state of Illinois starting with the state match in May.

56 cyclists ride, collect $4,000 for cancer fight

On Sept. 28, 56 bicyclists rode in the Ninth Annual American Cancer Society Bike-A-Thon here in Antioch, collecting over $4,000 in pledges.

The top rider in the event, as announced by Preston Reckers, Bike-A-Thon Chairman and vice president of the State Bank of Antioch, is Stephen Biel, who collected a total of $500.00.

His first place prize, a 10-speed bike, was donated by the State Bank of Antioch.

The second place prize, a five-speed bike, was awarded to Andy Proctor, who collected $334.50. His bike was donated by the Shoe Box.

Third place was won by David Ohlem, who collected $314.67. He also won a bike, which was donated by Four Squires.

The Antioch Jaycees once again lent their support to this annual event by having Steve Smouse ride the bike-a-thon route. They have collected close to $900.00 in pledges.

Reckers reminds all riders who have not yet turned in their money, that they should turn it in to him at the State Bank.

All money raised is used in the American Cancer Society's local programs of education and service and in the national cancer research programs.

When you build a fence, patio, or any exterior structure, this is the beautifully practical material.

Considering how long Outdoor wood lasts, even if you don't paint it, or stain it, it's relatively inexpensive. Use Outdoor wood for your next project. You can be sure it will have the appearance and shape-holding qualities you expect because Outdoor wood is a high grade of material.

Be sure to look for the Outdoor® wood mark on each piece of lumber. If it doesn't have the mark, it isn't genuine Outdoor brand wood.

Otten, Ruggles close out cross-country seasons

Robert Otten and Donna Ruggler closed out the Antioch High School cross-country season at the state cross-country meet in Peoria Nov. 8.

In the girls race, Donna Ruggler ran to an 82nd place in 12:54.

This finish is the best finish of any Antioch girl runner. The previous best was 92nd.

In the boys class AA race Robert Otten finished in 31st place. Otten ran the three-mile course in 14:56.

"Both runners ran sub-par races. It was just too bad it had to happen at the state meet. Donna, just a sophomore, has a possibility of another chance to run again, in the state meet, but Robert now has to look ahead to track.

Donna and Robert both had fine seasons and I congratulate them both for their efforts this year," said coach Jeff Dresser.

Sequoit cagers good bet to top NWSC Conference

It's basketball season again and Roger Andrews, the Sequoit's coach for 19 years, hopes to improve on the fifth place Northwest Suburban Conference slot that his team finished in last year.

They are slated to play Barrington for their season's opener in the Barrington Thanksgiving Tournament on Wednesday, Nov. 26.

Antioch's overall size is the tallest average in the conference, with their backcourt trio, John Ploss, Dee Maras and Pete Weber at 6-6, 6-8 and 6-3 respectively, promising to be the center force of the team.

These are returning lettermen who were often on the court at the start of the game last season.

If the Sequoits can use their size to good advantage, they should prove to be top conference contenders although present injuries are giving Antioch a shallow bench.

Coach Andrews intends to concentrate on a man to man defense, not eliminating the effective zone and also the press, while offensively they will try to run the ball even though their usual 1-3-1 will predominate.

There's no doubt that all the Sequoit fans are expecting great things of this tall, experienced, intelligent team this season.

Safety program slated

Youthful snowmobile operator may become certified at the upcoming certification classes sponsored by the Farm Bureau Women's Committee.

Committee Chairman, Cathy Noftz of Lake Zurich, states that with the number of snowmobiles in the county increasing the women see a need to promote safety and provide the instruction whereby our youthful operators can become certified by the state.

Cathy notes that all operators 12 years and older that do not have a drivers license must be certified before they can legally operate a snowmobile.

The class will be held in the Lake County Farm Bureau Auditorium on Saturday, Dec. 13 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Participants are required to bring a sack lunch. Registrations will be limited to 75 and are being accepted by calling 223-6506.

Registrants must be 12 or older to qualify for the certification.

The course will cover eight chapters and be directed on: Illinois Snowmobile Laws, machine repairs and maintenance, operation, first aid, and the one most important area "safety".

Further information on the program may be obtained by contacting Richard Raftis at 223-6506. Get your reservations in early.

It's basketball season again and Roger Andrews, the Sequoit's coach for 19 years, hopes to improve on the fifth place Northwest Suburban Conference slot that his team finished in last year.

Safety program slated

Youthful snowmobile operator may become certified at the upcoming certification classes sponsored by the Farm Bureau Women's Committee.

Committee Chairman, Cathy Noftz of Lake Zurich, states that with the number of snowmobiles in the county increasing the women see a need to promote safety and provide the instruction whereby our youthful operators can become certified by the state.

Cathy notes that all operators 12 years and older that do not have a drivers license must be certified before they can legally operate a snowmobile.

The class will be held in the Lake County Farm Bureau Auditorium on Saturday, Dec. 13 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Participants are required to bring a sack lunch. Registrations will be limited to 75 and are being accepted by calling 223-6506.

Registrants must be 12 or older to qualify for the certification.

The course will cover eight chapters and be directed on: Illinois-Snowmobile Laws, machine repairs and maintenance, operation, first aid, and the one most important area "safety".

Further information on the program may be obtained by contacting Richard Raftis at 223-6506. Get your reservations in early.

Otten, Ruggles close out cross-country seasons

Robert Otten and Donna Ruggler closed out the Antioch High School cross-country season at the state cross-country meet in Peoria Nov. 8.

In the girls race, Donna Ruggler ran to an 82nd place in 12:54.

This finish is the best finish of any Antioch girl runner. The previous best was 92nd.

In the boys class AA race Robert Otten finished in 31st place. Otten ran the three-mile course in 14:56.

"Both runners ran sub-par races. It was just too bad it had to happen at the state meet. Donna, just a sophomore, has a possibility of another chance to run again, in the state meet, but Robert now has to look ahead to track.

Donna and Robert both had fine seasons and I congratulate them both for their efforts this year," said coach Jeff Dresser.

Fine performers in 'Dracula'

The fame of Dracula has often preceded the books, movies and plays based on Bram Stoker's world famous novel about the king of vampires. But to learn first hand about Dracula, there is a need to see PM'L's production of Dracula as dramatized by Hamilton Dean and John Balderston.

PM'L Theatre in Antioch opened Nov. 15, to a crowd that nearly filled the theatre. And the people who came were not disappointed with the performance from mysterious beginning to sinister end. The special effects and the fine performances make the play worth spending and evening on.

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor:

"In high school, I was very involved in school activities, sports, band, newspaper, etc., and being away at college I miss hearing about the progress of various sports and activities.

"At home, we always got the Antioch News, and now that I'm away at school, I miss reading it. When I read the Antioch News, I feel like I'm at home. Most of the names and events are familiar to me. Here, the papers have stories about people and events that are not familiar to me.

"I also like getting mail and the Antioch News would be a guaranteed piece. This is why I want to take the Antioch News to college."

All of the players turned in a fine performance, but there were standout performances displayed by Lou Jones as Abraham Van Helsing and Larry Bullman as Count Dracula. When Jones and Bullman appear on the stage together in Dracula the show is at its best.

Other members of the cast also caught the audiences well deserved attention and made the play a success. Bruce Stamm as the insane R.M. Renfield dominated the stage with his believable and provocative interpretation of Dracula's reluctant servant. And when Renfield was on the stage Buterworth, played by Bob McKee, was not far behind to again corral him back to his room.

Sympathy for McKee's character at his frustration at keeping the slippery Renfield locked up is created by the actors good performance. And McKee's character provides the needed levity to keep the show moving.

But it is Jones as Van Helsing, the man who knows how to combat the king of vampires and Bullman as the count who has lived for more than 500 years, that will leave the theatre goer with the lasting impression of the play.

The other actors and actresses too make the play worth taking the family to. Miss Wells, the maid who succumbs to Dracula's powers is played by Rosaline Truskey. Jonathan Harker, the concerned lover of Lucy Westerna is played by Keith Boehm. Dr. Seward is played by James Bishop and Lucy Westerna, the woman who is preyed on by the Count is played by Dawn Ferry.

The acting is good but the special effects also make the play interesting. There are several scenes in the play that are greatly enhanced by the ingenuity of the special effects crew. The production crew plays just as great a role in making this production worth seeing as the actors and actresses.

It is safe to say that Dracula at the PM'L Theatre in Antioch is good entertainment for the whole family and is good to the last bite.

Dracula will play at the PM'L Theatre at 8:30 p.m. Nov. 21, 22, 28 and 29. Tickets may be reserved by calling 395-3055.

"The Matchmaker" opens

What promises to be one of the finest productions Antioch Community High School has ever presented will open this Thursday, Nov. 20 and run through Saturday, Nov. 22. "The Matchmaker" by Thornton Wilder will feature several young people who are becoming familiar and favorite actors on the local stages.

Both Tony Starke and Jeannie Lindgren will be remembered for their performances in the PM&L production of Our Town. They have also been featured in previous high school dramas As You Like It and The Importance of Being Earnest.

Jennifer Czapiewski was also featured in the same two productions. Sue Butler and Jennifer Biel were featured in Earnest. Church Duha, Earl Ballenger, Ed Wells and Charles Bischoff have all had featured roles in former productions. Only Dawn Hansen, James Fabry and Roger Knowlton will be making debut performances at the high school.

The play is the high school's entry in the Illinois High School Theatre Festival and, if selected, will perform at the Krannert Center for the Performing Arts at the University of Illinois in January.

The show runs Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 20, 21, 22 at 8 p.m. Tickets are available from the cast or can be purchased at the door.

Dracula has scary opening

One of the great horror plays of all time, "Dracula" opened last Saturday night at the PM&L Theater, 877 Main St. in Antioch. While the last returns are not yet entirely in, it was thought at the time of this writing that all of the members of the first-night audience are still alive and many of them still have most of their blood. "Dracula's bark is worse than his bite," one theatergoer was overheard to say.

Five more harrowing performances of the show remain. These are scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights, Nov. 21, 22, 28 and 29; and for Sunday afternoon, Nov. 23. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. for the evening presentations, and 2:30 p.m. for the Sunday matinee.

Sunday afternoon is probably the safest time to see "Dracula". As is known, vampires are generally inactive at that time of day, when they often sleep in coffins. Besides, playgoers who do not find it possible or convenient to come to Friday or Saturday night performances will no doubt be especially interested in the Sunday matinee.

Whichever choice, be sure to call 395-3055 to make reservations. Service at that PM&L reservations number has recently been regularized and strengthened. Be at the theater no later than 8:15 on the night — or 2:15 on the afternoon — you plan to see this famous bloodchiller.

Rumors afloat here during the last few days to the effect that the bandits who held up and robbed the Silver Lake State Bank on Nov. 6 had been captured and lodged in jail today were emphatically denied by Eric Hansen, cashier and his assistant, Clifford L. Janke.

Tuesday was "moving day" for the Antioch Public Library. Since its establishment eight years ago by the Woman's Club it has been housed in the village hall, but will now be in the Antioch Grade school.

After an absence of 16 years, Guy G. Ellis returned to practice the legal profession in his native state and county. His office was opened this morning in the First National Bank building.

Frank Clower, 56, former proprietor of the Last Chance Inn on the state line, was acquitted of the murder of Eugene Coverston. Clower took the stand in his own defense and pleaded that he shot in self defense. On this ground a verdict of not guilty was returned.

Have you noticed the display in the window of the Brogan building on Main street? No? Then be sure to see it, as Harry Poetzke has a fine showing of handy can and jar openers there.

Mrs. Richard Corrin sustained two broken ribs and face cuts late Sunday evening when the car in which she was riding collided with a horse on the road north of Millburn.

Public Service is connecting a new big gas main to supply lake towns. Increased demand for gas caused principally by growth and increased use of the fuel for house heating and other purposes necessitated the new interconnection.

A Holstein cow that gave birth to a heifer calf on Nov. 4, gave birth to a bull calf on Monday, just 16 days later at the Katherine Shea farm on Edwards Rd., east of Rte. 45. The animals were not twins and such an instance is indeed rare.

It doesn't take a newspaper article to tell the people of the Antioch area that the new lighting system is in use. That fact can be told at some distance from the downtown area.

It doesn't take a newspaper article to tell the people of the Antioch area that the new lighting system is in use. That fact can be told at some distance from the downtown section where the lights were turned on in a special ceremony last Friday evening.

Jim McMillen, owner of the Antioch Concrete Products Co., bought a large overhead steel bucket elevator in the auction sale of the Chicago Package Fuel Co., Chicago, and is moving it here this week to his plant on Depot St. The elevator stands 76 feet in the air at Chicago, but McMillan says he will cut down that height here. "We don't want any of the airplanes hitting it," he commented.

A new furniture store will be opened in the Masonic building, Antioch, under the name of "Furniture by Olsen." A Harold Olsen, proprietor said he hopes to have the store opened early in December. "It will equal in beauty anything they have on State St., for interior beauty, and I know, because I have designed them," he said.

10 YEARS AGO: NOVEMBER 19, 1970

Richard Jorgensen was elected prelate at the last lodge Moose meeting to replace Bud Andersen who was unable to finish out the year because of working conditions.

On Saturday, Nov. 14, despite the near freezing temperature, a group of students and Lions Club members worked to solve part of Antioch's pollution problem. In less than four hours, volunteers were successful in collecting more than five truckloads of trash, litter and junk from the town.

Saturday night the Tuesday Businessmen's Golf League enjoyed a pleasant evening of dinner and dancing along with awards. One team was awarded trophies for being the oldest. Homer LaPlant came up with his usual "Words of Wisdom." Saw one well known couple doing a most unusual polka. Think I'll try to find out where it originated. Possum Trot, Ark., maybe?

Joanne Shute, the very capable secretary of the Chamber of Commerce is asked for all types of information. The latest question was "Where do you rent reindeer?" You know she found out!

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

I see where Greg Stevens, one of Antioch High School's football alumnus earned a letter at Lawrence University, Appleton, Wis., where he helped the Vikings win their second straight conference football championship.

Greg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stevens.

I happened to be listening to Bob and Betty Sanders on my car radio last week and heard them award two tickets for dinner to the County House Restaurant to an Ed Haley of Antioch.

Did you know we had a very talented artist living in the area?

Doug Ploss designed the beautiful poinsetta tree that stands in front of the Sears Store in Hawthorn Center and also is responsible for the beautiful drawings in the coloring book that Santa will hand out to the youngsters who visit the center during the Christmas Season.

Ken and Betty Smouse are still razzing Angie Maras about not getting any of that delicious champagne at the press party held at Marshall Fields last week.

That's okay, Annie Mae took care of their share.

Congratulations to Kate Verkest who celebrated being 84 years young on Sat., Nov. 15, at the home of Florence and Otto Hanke.

KATE VERKEST

Besides relatives and friends from Racine, Kenosha, Arlington Heights and Waukegan, her son, Frank Verkest and his wife Marcie came all the way from Missouri to wish Mom many more.

Kate, who retired from Pickard China at the age of 72, has lived in Antioch for 55 years, plays bingo, cards and still bowls twice a week.

And one of the best sports around seems to be Kathleen Ogden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ogden, who is playing field hockey at Lake Forest College.

Contrary to reports, I have been told that the Antioch Village Board will take a unified stand on the possibility of tax ceiling cuts in the village, and will release it closer to the April election when "It will do the most good."

Following in her father Pete Clevon's footsteps, Lisa Clevon is down at Iowa Wesleyan College pursuing a career in Business Administration.

Two of Antioch's musically inclined youngsters, Mary Matteson and Kathy Michalski are playing with the Marching Husky Show Band down at Northern Illinois University.

They're do to travel to Houston, Tex., during the Thanksgiving weekend to perform at the Houston Oilers' halftime show.

Dennis Boehm of our fair village, will have a stained glass display at the hobbycraft and gift show slated for Nov. 28, 29, and 30 at State Fair Park in Milwaukee, Wis.

Rabies alert issued

The special rabies alert issued by the Lake County Health Dept. during the week of Oct. 6 brought many requests by pet owners for information on rabies vaccination and county registration.

The discovery of a rabid skunk and a rabid bat in the county during the previous week caused the alert which urged residents not to touch any bat or skunk but to report the animal to the health department.

THE ALERT also urged owners of dogs and cats to have their pets vaccinated against rabies.

Vaccination of dogs and cats, as required by Lake County, protects pets from contracting rabies when they come into contact with a rabid wild animal such as a skunk, bat, raccoon, or fox, or an unvaccinated rabid pet.

Vaccination of dogs and cats also provides humans with good protection against rabies.

"The pet who is not vaccinated and contracts rabies may bite a person and transmit the almost always fatal disease," says Dr. Steven R. Potsic, executive director, Lake County Health Dept.

ONLY DOGS and cats may be vaccinated. Illinois prohibits keeping wild animals as pets.

Proof of vaccination (a county rabies tag) must be worn at all times by dogs and cats. The tag not only provides proof of vaccination in case the animal bites a person, but also serves to trace ownership in case the pet is lost because the county keeps a file for each registered pet according to tag number.

The maximum fee is $10 for a three-year vaccination tag (dogs only) and $4 for a one-year tag (dogs or cats).

Pet owners may call the health department at 689-6424 for fee and municipal information.

Persons noting a stray animal should call their municipal office or the Lake County Animal Warden at 526-5336.

Fire Chief: 'These are some kerosene heater safety rules'

Fire Chief Charles Mapleshorpe of the Antioch Fire Dept. today alerted homeowners planning to purchase and use a kerosene room heater this winter to the importance of purchasing safe heaters and the proper use of these heaters with the proper fuel.

"A new generation of these heaters has been developed which contain features that make them much safer than the old 'pot burners' that were common 30 years ago," Chief Charles Mapleshorpe said.

"However, they require proper measures by the user in the interests of fire safety, and that includes using the right fuel."

Fire Chief Charles Mapleshorpe provided the following safety checklists:

1. People when purchasing kerosene room heaters should always be sure that the heater has received the U.L. label, and also the National Fire Protection Association Standard 31 for unvented kerosene fueled heaters.

2. BURN ONLY KEROSENE. NEVER use gasoline, white gas, camp stove or other fuels. They are extremely dangerous if used in kerosene heaters.

3. Kerosene should be water-clear. Yellow or colored kerosene will smoke, smell and interfere with wick operation.

4. Store kerosene supplies in approved container, clearly marked KEROSENE, away from living quarters.

5. Refill heater away from living quarters, when heater is cool using a siphon pump to prevent spillage.

6. Place the heater away from curtains, furniture, papers, clothes or other combustible materials.

7. Some heaters surfaces become hot. Keep children away and instruct them not to touch the controls. Perhaps provide a barrier around the heater to prevent them contacting it.

8. Provide adequate ventilation, normally furnished by opening a door to an adjacent room. In totally closed rooms a window should be opened slightly. Avoid drafts.

9. Read and follow the manufacturer's directions for correct operation and maintenance of the heater. Keep the instruction booklet available for reference.

10. Clean and maintain your heater according to the manufacturer's instructions. Keep base tray free of dust, dirt or any obstructions.

11. When turning the heater off, make sure the flame is completely extinguished.

12. Because heaters have an open flame, do not use flammable solvents, aerosol sprays, lacquers, or gasoline in the same room.

If for any reason you are not sure of any of the above precautions please feel free to contact Fire Chief Charles Mapleshorpe, Antioch Fire Dept. or Asst. Chief Jimmie Quedenfeld of the Antioch Fire Dept. Fire Prevention Bureau. The phone numbers of the above people are 395-8585 or 395-1355.

Antioch's "going women" Energies turned into money

by GLORIA DAVIS

Six years ago one of Antioch's most popular and active homemakers and club women, Angie Maras, embarked on what turned out to be a very successful full time career at Vernon Hills' Hawthorn Center.

This unexpected whirlwind success story took place when Angie met Helen DeWitt, who was then in charge of Public Relations for Hawthorn Center while arranging for Phyllis MacMillan's fashion show "A History of Fashions" to make an appearance at the center.

It was during these negotiations while Angie was staring at the mounds of paperwork on the P.R. Director's desk, listening to the ringing telephones and seeing the constant traffic streaming through Helen DeWitt's office, and telling herself that she never wanted to be that busy, that DeWitt, who was leaving Hawthorn for Water Tower Place in Chicago, offered her that same hectic job.

When Angie protested her lack of experience and training, DeWitt told her that anyone who was well organized enough to handle her duties as wife and mother of three and all the community activities with the Lake County Homemakers, the Antioch Woman's Club, Antioch Mental Health Organization plus find time for creative sewing and still have enough energy to serve on the ski patrol at Wilmot Mt., could handle the job at Hawthorn by just widening her scope of activities.

So with family encouragement and some misgivings, a new career woman was born.

What started out to be a 35 hours a week job often stretches into more than that, but Angie has gained quite a reputation with her innovative handling of the seasonal events at the center.

This tall, dark haired, vivacious gal gives much of the credit to a competent staff, and the support and understanding of her husband and now grown children.

The support of her friends and the organizations from her hometown is also high on her credit list.

One of the highlights of her career has been reached this month as Hawthorn gets set for the Christmas Season.

Hawthorn's Christmas decorations are a culmination of two years of planning as the ethnic heritage of many countries is shown throughout the mall in varied and colorful animated displays.

The idea was Angie's, who worked with Helen DeWitt and Hans Gill, Curator of Exhibits at the Lake County Museum, and the final plans were produced by Perry Gerber Associates.

The same motif, "Christmas Traditions around the World" has been reproduced in a most artistically done coloring book that Santa will hand out to the children visiting him at the center.

The beautiful yet educational book was coordinated by Angie and the art work executed by another local resident, Doug Ploss, Lake Villa.

Typical of the saying, "Ask a busy person if you want something done," Angie still finds time for home, a little club work and skis on patrol every Sunday during the season.

Emmons seventh grade team picked up right where it left off. Under new Coach Dave Kmiec, the Raiders jumped off with two early victories. The Raiders easily downed Gavin 25-11 then stormed past Millburn 32-19.

In the opening game with Gavin, Emmons jumped to a 8-0 first quarter advantage. Scott Ranney and Rob Christiansen combined for 15 points, six and nine respectively, to help the Raiders leave the floor at intermission with a 21-2 lead.

With the bench playing the rest of the way, Emmons opened its season with a 25-11 win.

GO AHEAD. SWEAR AT US, PUNCH A WALL. BUT THEN READ THE RECORD.

Things don't look so rosy now, but it wasn't always that way. There were a whole lot of years, most of the years we've been in business, when folks thought we were doing right by them. When we never raised our rates. When it was the other way around.

We actually lowered the price of electricity.

Not just a few times. Twenty-nine times. For twenty-nine of the ninety-three years there's been an electric company in northern Illinois, customers paid less for a kilowatt-hour than they did the year before.

Electricity was a bigger bargain than ever.

We were so proud of that, we made it our trademark. A friendly light bulb with arms and legs called "Little Bill." He said it all. Little electric bills.

What made it possible was progress. The steady rise in the standard of living. Everywhere you went, people were swapping their iceboxes for refrigerators. And factories were switching from steam to electric power.

That meant millions of motors running almost nonstop, day in, day out, just about every day of the year. All of which required loads of electricity, regular as clockwork.

The more we generated to meet the demand, the less it cost. Electricity was no different than anything else. Mass production was cheaper. And all our innovations and streamlining didn't hurt either.

Everybody loved us, and took our little bills for granted. Till some things nobody could foresee upset the old appletart.

Air conditioning really caught on in the late forties and fifties. By the sixties, it was standard fare in thousands of factories, office buildings and apartment complexes. And tens of thousands of new homes in suburbia.

It took huge increases in generating capacity, just to handle the hot summer months when all that air conditioning was going full blast. Generating capacity that had to be paid for year-around, even though it wasn't used year-around.

On top of that, there was the enormous cost of cleaner air and water in the seventies. Of installing expensive anti-pollution devices, and expensive new equipment to transport and burn low-sulfur western coal.

Most of all, though, there was the incredible cost of inflation. Year after year of price hike after price hike. Small ones in the beginning, just after the Korean War. Then larger and larger and larger. On virtually everything we needed to provide northern Illinois with power and light.

In spite of all that, our rates have only gone up twelve times since 1887. Twice in the fifties. The rest between 1970 and now.

But the electricity that runs your appliances and turns on your lights is still cheaper here than in most places our size, like Los Angeles and New York. Not to mention some places a lot smaller, like Philadelphia and Newark.

Surprising as it may seem, a kilowatt-hour costs far less now than it did back in 1908. Electric bills are bigger today for other reasons, reasons we can't really control.

One is that people are using much more electricity today. The second is the rapidly rising cost of coal and oil.

The point is, we haven't changed. Circumstances have. No matter what anybody says, we're still doing as right by you as we can.

Your electric service is still as reliable and as reasonable as we can make it.

Okay, now punch the wall. If you still have to.

Emmons tops Gavin and Millburn in opener

Emmons Schools eighth grade basketball team dropped its opening game 26-23 to Gavin and then rebounded for a 60-19 win over Millburn.

After scoring six unanswered points for a 6-0 lead, the Raiders allowed Gavin to score eight points without a reply to close out the opening stanza trailing 8-6.

In the second quarter both teams played even with seven points each, for a 15-13 Gavin advantage at the mid point. Gavin's Bill Wehrstein continued to carry a hot hand and scored six of his game high 17 points in the third quarter.

Gavin jumped to a 23-17 lead after three, and the Raiders fell just a little short in a comeback effort.

The Raiders were led by Gary Gamber's 10 points and 18 rebounds, while Brad Poulter added nine points.

Balanced scoring helped Emmons overpower

Millburn's Mustangs '60-19. All five starters hit for double figures led by Rob Christiansen and Don Chisholm with 11 each. Stan Kuligowski, Poulter and to victory.

Gamber again dominated the boards with 11 rebounds and Christiansen hauled down six. The Raiders will host Oakcrest at 4 p.m. in the Emmons Gym on Thursday November 20.

Sara is dancing doll

by GLORIA DAVIS

Does Antioch have a blooming Pavlova in 11 year old Sara Hamlin daughter of Carol and Jim Hamlin who is a sixth grader at St. Peter's grade school?

This pretty little blond has a good start on following in that ballerina's toe shoes after five and a half years of dance lessons at the Kim Kallas Studio of Dancing, Lake Villa.

Sara has taken tap, jazz, acrobatic and her favorite, ballet or toe dancing and now after passing an audition will appear as a rag doll in the Lake Shore dance theater's Christmas concert.

Sara will play the part of a toy in the junior groups version of "Santa's Visit," on Dec. 12, 13 and 24.

With her eye on a possible career in dancing, this petite prancer is practicing to compete in a dance contest at the O'Hare Holiday Inn where she is scheduled to do some toe dancing and a jazz acrobatic solo, the winner of the contest will go on the New York National Repertoire Studio.
